

Thou hast put gladness in my heart, More than [they have] when their grain and their new wine are increased.