

The enemy are come to an end, they are desolate for ever;
And the cities which thou hast overthrown, The very remembrance of them is perished. [