Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God, And say in his heart, Thou wilt not require [it]
