

A black and white line drawing of a forest scene. Several tall, slender trees with thick trunks are the central focus. Their canopies are filled with dense, stylized foliage represented by various wavy and pointed lines. The ground is covered with grass and small plants, some of which are also depicted with stylized line art. The overall style is simple and illustrative, suitable for a coloring page.

Blake