

A detailed black and white illustration of a dense floral pattern. The design features a variety of stylized flowers, including large daisy-like blooms with many petals, smaller spiral flowers, and delicate, swirling motifs. The flowers are arranged in a symmetrical, repeating pattern. In the center of the image, the word "Taylor" is written in a large, elegant, serif font. The letters are white with a black outline, making them stand out against the dark background of the floral design. The overall style is reminiscent of vintage wallpaper or a decorative book cover.
